Murder Charges.

(By the Associated Press)
MIAMI, Okla., Sept. 6.—With the arrest here of seven persons, local officials believe they have those who were implicated in the robbery of a mail truck north of here last Friday when $14,200 was stolen. The men were detained Monday afternoon and were transferred from the city to the county jail today. Those detained are Fred Barker, W. C. Crabb, Glenn Lamberson, Edgar Minson, Wayne Evans, Mrs. May Deshane and Mrs. Elizabeth Lowrey, all of Tulsa. They are held for investigation, no charges having been placed against them. Barker has one brother serving 25 years for a similar offense some time ago and another brother is in McAlester prison serving a life sentence for murder in connection with a robbery in Tulsa, according to officials.

ENROLLMENT AT COLLEGE SHOWS UNUSUAL GAINS

Enrollment at the end of the second day of school at East Central Teachers college Tuesday night was greater than it was when the first semester closed last year, Dr. A. Linsch, president, announced Wednesday. One hundred more students are expected to enroll before the end of next week. Many schools over the district are closing their first term and teachers will be here in great numbers within the next few days, the president said. A record enrollment in the light of present financial difficulties is anticipated. Exact figures on attendance will be released from the college next Monday.

Former Teacher Here Elected to New York City School Faculty

Friends of Miss Irma Spriggs, who until last spring was a member of the East Central College faculty, have just received the news that she has been elected to a position on the faculty of one of the New York City high schools and will leave Springfield, Mo., for New York at once. This position carries a high salary as she will get credit for the years she has been teaching. Miss Spriggs is considered one of the best teachers of literature who has ever been in the Oklahoma schools, and her friends say that New York city is fortunate in getting her services. Her failing health caused her to give up the work here, but she probably believes she will be able to stand the strain in a cooler climate.

ADA MEN GIVEN MEMORIAL CONTRACT

NEW OUTFIELD TO BATTLE ANADARKO

Ada Club Strengthened by Strong Healdton Men for Hard Series.

Anadarko and Ada were ready this afternoon to start the first of a series of three games, the results of which will practically settle the state amateur baseball championship. Anadarko players arrived in Ada overland after a strenuous drive and although no advance reports had been received, it was generally understood that the club had one of the best line-ups it has offered this season. Manager Green said today he had taken steps to strengthen his own club, obtaining three new outfielders. His men were ready for the games and with the exception of definite word from Clowers, he had all plans completed. Paul Waner will pitch the game, with Kaiser receiving. The regular infield, Rutledge, Fain, R. Warner and Yonke, will be used but the outfield will be entirely new. Woods, Osburn and Williams, who have been playing with the Healdton club, will be here Woods is the catcher for Healdton and Williams and Osburn are two of the hardest hitters the Healdton club has.

They're Stick Artists
In the four games played between Ada and Healdton, the new men, playing against Lefty Waner, hit as follows: Woods, 14 times at bat, with six hits; Williams, 12 times at bat, with 3 hits; Osburn, 12 times at bat with three hits. This is considered good batting, especially with Waner pitching. Lefty Williams will twirl for Ada tomorrow and, if possible, Clowers will be used in Friday's game. In case Clowers is used, Paul Waner will go into the outfield and Woods will be put behind the plate to receive, it was said. During the games Waner and Williams pitch, Kaiser will catch and the new outfield will be maintained. Roach, Thussen, West, Morrison, Vernon, Norman and probably one or two others will be held in reserve for the series of three games and Green expressed hope of making a sweep of the series. Many fans have given him pledges of support in the crucial games of the season, he said, and the players will have the strongest backing of local baseball fandom that any club has ever received here.

SHERIFF SOLVES 'STILL' MYSTERY EAST OF TYROLA

After two unsuccessful attempts to find the hand that was directing the destinies of a well hidden whiskey still two miles east of Tyrola County Sheriff Bob Duncan and his deputies penetrated Saturday the web of mystery which surrounds the little "wildcat." N. H. Maddox and George Bingham, farmers, were lodged in the county jail and 300 gallons of mash were spilled. Bingham entered a plea of guilty in the county court to a charge of manufacturing intoxicating liquor and took a penalty of $50 and 30 days at the hand of County Judge Tal Crawford. Maddox is charged with manufacturing. An additional charge of possession, against both men, was dismissed by Assistant County Attorney Hugh F. Mathis when Bingham pleaded guilty to manufacturing. In a winding ravine which put into a tributary to the Canadian river, officers found the still. They had found and destroyed parts of other stills in the same neighborhood before, Sheriff Duncan said.

TRACTOR SOLVES PROBLEM IN SWITCHING OF CARS

(By the Associated Press)
IUKO, Miss., Sept. 6.—What is regarded by railroad men here as a possible solution of repairs to switch engines in the present railroad crisis was afforded here when a tractor was called into service to move box cars on sidings. The cars were loaded heavily. The tractor moved off with the first car with ease. The experiment was repeated several times without failure. No attempt was made to operate passenger coaches by this means.

Chimpanzees Bolt After Display of Society Manners

(By the Associated Press)
ST. LOUIS, Sept. 6.—Two chimpanzees, "honorary guests" of the Zoological Society at an open air celebration in Forest Park near here, sat at a table, displayed the manners of refinement and observed all rules of etiquette, such as the proper use of knife and spoon, until something happened which the honor guests had not been taught to do—pose for a picture. With the sound of the explosion of the flashlight powder, the two guests forgot that good table manner forbade "French leave" without asking the company's pardon, and disappeared under the table, accompanied by laughter of thousands of adults and children who witnessed the event.

ASSIGN FACULTY FOR EFFICIENCY

Hickman Uses Care in His Placing of Teachers in City Schools.

An official announcement from the city superintendent of schools this morning gave the faculty personnel of each ward school and the high school, including new additions and a few changes which were made during the past two weeks.

What is believed to be one of the strongest faculties ever hired by the high school was named. Half of the force of teachers are women and sixteen of them were members of the faculty last year. All have been assigned to courses of study they are best adapted to teaching, according to Supt. J. E. Hickman.

Faculty of the high school includes W. A. Hill, A. B. principal; J. L. German, A. B., English; Miss Abbie Horne, A. B., English; Mrs. Wilbur Lee, A. B., English; B. K. Cudd, A. B., history; E. Garrett, A. B., history; Mrs. Grace Tolbert, A. B., history; C. R. Cox, athletic director; John B. Tatum, A. B., languages; Miss Grace Beauchamp, languages; H. F. Felix, A. B., mathematics; Miss Eunice Bills, Mathematics; Oscar Parker, A. B., science; Mrs. Charles Bobbitt, B. S., home economics; George L. Dougherty, A. B., science; Miss Mabel Norwood, commercial; Miss Abbie Kitchens, commercial; D. T. Bradshaw, B. S., manual training; Miss Inez Donaldson, A. B., music; Miss Nellie Kent, A. B., physical training for girls and Latin.

Miss Inez Donaldson will supervise all music in the high school for girls, including chorus, glee club and other musical work. Mrs. H. F. Felix will supervise writing and drawing classes.

Prof. W. A. Hill of the high school reports that enrollment is passing the 400 mark and that prospects are that several new students will enroll later. All classes are larger than before and he believes the number of graduates next spring will be the largest in history.

More than 150 students are included on the freshman rolls. This is about a third of the enrollment of the school and includes more than 90 percent of the graduates from the grade schools of the city last spring. Junior class is the next largest with the senior class the smallest, according to first unofficial figures.

It is reported that students are still entering ward schools. Washington school is the only one where all classes are crowded, it was said, while Glenwood and Irving report crowded conditions in some sections. Other schools are expected to exceed former enrollment records.

"WINNING SOULS" TO BE SERMON TOPIC TONIGHT

"Winning Souls" will be the subject of a sermon tonight by Rev. E. O. Whitwell in continuing the two weeks' revival meeting in the new Presbyterian church. Mrs. Sam Huser will render a vocal solo. Russell Boud sang last night. Rev. Whitwell announced today that special music will be given each night at the meeting. Open air services are being conducted on the main floor of the new church and a cordial welcome has been extended to the public to attend.

CLEAR SITE AT ONCE

Commissioners Will Issue
Call for Bids on Old Buildings Now.

After a consideration extending over a period of more than twelve hours, city commissioners Wednesday morning granted a contract to F. D. Hill and son of this city for the construction of Ada's $100,000 memorial-convention hall.

Much debate came up in the meeting, at which various experts were consulted and to which members of the citizens' committee, working in conjunction with the commissioners, were admitted. Eleven bids were submitted. Five were general and six special bids.

Finance Commissioner Charley Deaver said Wednesday afternoon that the bid of the Hill Construction company was considered the best of the eleven, it being a general bid and lowest. It will cost the city, under the contract, approximately $85,000 for the construction of the hall. Ten thousand dollars was used in purchasing the site for the hall, which leaves approximately $15,000 for furnishing it.

Sell Buildings Sept. 16.

Sale of buildings on the site for the hall will be held on September 16. Bids will be received up to that time. As soon as possible, it was understood today, contractors will start excavation work and get work under way in order to complete it in time for a number of conventions which probably will be brought here next year.

Few of the bidders were from Ada. A large number of representatives of contracting companies, building material houses and other business interests were at the city hall Tuesday afternoon and Wednesday morning, awaiting the decision of the city dads.

Commissioners convened and started consideration of the bids at 2:30 p. m. Tuesday and closed the discussions shortly before noon Wednesday.

Several matters concerning various features of the building had to be decided before letting the contract, and it is understood that a fight was made in some instances to have certain phases of the building changed.

It was said Wednesday by commissioners, however, that plans were adopted as originally presented by architects. With only one or two minor changes, it was indicated, the hall will be built as commissioners and citizens' committee first accepted plans. All factions were satisfied, however, before the contract was let and legal steps taken to make it effective.

The building will have three floors, including a basement, which has already been leased to two companies of the Oklahoma National guard, stationed here. The ground floor will be the main auditorium, with a seating capacity of 3600. It will have a large front entrance and several side entrances, according to the architect's drawing.

The third floor will consist of a balcony and several rooms. A stage will be built at the rear end of the ground and second floors. It will be one of the largest buildings in the city. Homes for the American Legion, Chamber of Commerce, Boy Scouts, Red Cross and several other organizations will be provided. The rooms will be used for this purpose.

Double stairs will be built leading to each floor, one set being located in the front and another in the rear of the building. Present plans call for the location of the building on six lots, which will leave plenty of space on all sides for walks and flowers, commissioners said. It will face the pavement on South Townsend avenue and will be located on the southeast corner of Block 104, original plat.

Prisoner on Visit to Son's Deathbed Will Not be Freed

(By the Associated Press)
PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 6.—Edward F. Dorsey, prisoner at Ft. Leavenworth, Kansas who is here for the second time in a year by the grace of the government, visited his five year old son, "Bucky", whose life hangs in the balance, has virtually despaired of receiving a pardon at an early date. For a time his friends believed that it would not be necessary for him to return to the federal prison where he has served three years of the ten years' sentence for violation of the espionage act. Instead of a pardon there came a notice last night, while he was telling stories to his invalid son, that his leave of absence had been extended five days.

8 NATIONS FIRE GREETING TO U. S.

Sec. Hughes Given Hearty
Salute of Guns Upon Reaching Brazil.

(By the Associated Press)
RIO DE JANEIRO, Sept. 6.—Guns boomed from the warships of eight nations when the United States ship Maryland entered the harbor of Rio de Janeiro yesterday afternoon carrying the American mission to the Brazilian Centennial, headed by Secretary of State Hughes. The steamship Pan-American which brought Mr. Hughes here from New York, overtook the Maryland and the Nevada just before arriving at the entrance to the harbor where the Secretary and his party were transferred to the Maryland.

Four Brazilian battleships escorted them into the harbor. The Maryland anchored in the midst of an international fleet and exchanged salutes in which the harbor ports joined. The vessels represented Great Britain, Japan, Italy, Portugal, Argentina, Uruguay, Mexico and Brazil. Although the United States has not recognized the Mexican government, the gunboat flying the Mexican flag saluted the Nevada returned the salute by order of the secretary of state, who told Admiral Jones that diplomatic technicalities should be waived since both vessels were in a friendly harbor.

Strike Envoys Meet Today in Baltimore for Ending Walkout

(By the Associated Press)
CHICAGO, Sept. 6.—Seven representatives of the striking shop-crafts were declared by John Scott, secretary of the railway employees department of the American Federation of Labor, to be in Baltimore today for a conference with railroad executives on a proposition to end the strike. Mr. Scott intimated that a proposal on which it was hoped the strike could be halted had been presented but he would not outline it. The conference, he said, was to have been secret.

ROFF FAIR SHOWS YEAR OF ADVANCE

Armory is Filled Tuesday
With Prize Products of Township.

Citizens of Fitzhugh township took an unusual interest in their annual township fair and turned out a large crowd at Roff Thursday for the event.

The armory was turned over to the fair association for the day, it being the largest available building in the town and it was none too large to accommodate the crowd and leave room for exhibits. Displays were up to standard in number and quality. The season has been such that most crops produced well and exhibitors had plenty of good stuff to choose from. There was a splendid variety, indicating that the people are giving attention to many lines of agriculture and gardening.

Ladies were on hand with a long list of fancy work, canning and cooking exhibits. Evidently they have been busy preparing for the coming winter and a possible shortage in the fruit crop of next year.

Laxton school had a creditable exhibit and will apply the prize money towards a fund for the purchase of a piano for the new school house now in course of erection. This district voted bonds for a four room brick building and will add some high school grades to the curriculum.

As most of the largest ranches of the county are located in that part, the livestock exhibit was good both in point of number and quality. There were numerous and pretty well divided between the Poland Chinas and Duroc Jerseys.

Boys' Club Exhibit.

Several months ago the F. & M. National bank sold ten Duroc gilts to ten boys. Six of these were at the fair and so well had the boys cared for the animals that he judges had to study each one closely before being able to pass judgment on them. The bank offered $10 in prizes which were divided thus: First, $4, second, $2 and the others $1 each. Mr. Bynum of Hickory, from whom the gilts were purchased, gave $2.50 to the winner of first honors, $1.50 to the second and $1 to the third. These premiums were in addition to the regular fair awards. Jack Tyree's gilt was given first place, Carroll Durham third. The other three boys who exhibited were Arthur Brown, Leonard Young and Troy Williams. Late in the afternoon there were several races and other forms of amusement for the crowd.

MRS. PARKER WINS ELKS GOLF HONORS IN CITY TOURNNEY

Mrs. A. W. Parker won highest honor in the Elks Golf Tournament. She defeated Mrs. J. H. Patten by a margin of two strokes in a sensational match last Sunday on the links of the local country club. Score going out was: 61-62 in favor of Mrs. Parker; coming in: 65-66, in favor of Mrs. Parker. A large crowd of enthusiasts witnessed the match. Men's championship, to be decided in a foursome was postponed. Bruce Ligon, W. J. Coffman, Sam Schienberg and Roy Givens will participate at a later date, with Dr. I. L. Cummings as referee.

Rapid progress is being made in the Open Golf Tournament for the city. Ladies have played off all eliminations to the semi-finals, with most of the interest being directed to the men's division.

Matches in the first semi-finals which must be played by next Sunday night, are: Merle Matthews vs. Harmon Ebey; Paul Alderson vs. W. J. Coffman; Paul Carsen vs. Roy Givens. The winner of a preliminary match between Marshal Harris and Whit Fentem will play N. W. Fisher in the fourth match of the first semi-finals.

Four winners in these matches will play to decide the two candidates for honors in the finals. It is expected that within two weeks the championships will have been decided.

JEWELL IS MISSING

Return of Shopcraft Head
May Help to Clear Up Difficulties.

(By the Associated Press)
CHICAGO, Sept. 6.—Leaders of the railway shopmen's strike and railway executives were in accord today in denial of published reports that there was another move on foot to settle the strike. Other union officials declined to reveal the whereabouts of B. M. Jewell, head of the shopcrafts organization, since he dropped out of sight last Monday. Vague and numerous rumors said he had "been in the east." Mr. Scott said he had heard nothing of Mr. Jewell's returning here today, adding that he was not expected for several days. Meanwhile federal agents awaited the return of Mr. Jewell to formally serve him with an injunction writ.

Strike conditions generally were reported quiet throughout the country.

10 Held at Memphis
Ten men, all of whom were said by police to be striking shopmen, were held at Memphis, Tenn., in connection with the recent disorders. All of the ten, the police said, have made confessions bearing on the killing of Charles Lanier, a non-union shop employee of the Frisco system; a plot to waylay a shop foreman; an attempt to wreck a passenger train near Memphis and the slaying of two negro employees of the Rock Island at Hulbert, Ark.

State military authorities tightened their lines about the Parsons, Kan., shops strike zone, as a precautionary measure.

Santa Fe officials reported that a bridge near Verdugone, Cal., had been dynamited.

The Nebraska federation of labor adopted a resolution making for a general strike of organized labor in the United States in support of the railway shopmen's strike.

GOVERNMENT TO FORBID BLOCKING OF TRAFFIC

(By the Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Sept. 6.—A determination to prevent interference with interstate commerce but to press no interpretation of the injunction granted the government against the striking railway shopmen that would abridge personal liberty or freedom of speech of the press, was the policy upon which the federal administration was proceeding today in following up the injunction action.

There would be no use of the injunction to abridge these constitutional rights was the statement on his return to the capital by Attorney General Daugherty, who added, however, that "freedom of speech and freedom of the press does not mean those mediums may be used to incite riots or murders."

BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

WITHHOLD NOT GOOD:—Withhold not good from them to whom it is due, when it is in the power of thine to do it.—Proverbs 3:27. GOD IS LOVE:—Behold, let us love one another; for love is of God and every one that loveth is born of God and knoweth God.—1 John 4:7.

THE LITERARY DIGEST VOTE

The straw vote of the Literary Digest on the prohibition question is showing considerable sentiment for repeal of the strict prohibition laws. Some of the prohibitionists are charging that the publication is purposely making the vote show favorably for wine and beers and other intoxicating liquors.

Of course such a charge is foolish. No newspaper or magazine with any standing would think of misrepresenting the sentiment of the country knowingly. What the prohibitionists should do is to realize that a large percentage of the people have not yet reached the point of favoring a bone-dry law and should devote some effort towards convincing them of their error. The vote in favor of absolute repeal of prohibition is a hopeless minority in the Digest poll, showing that even under present conditions, when bottleggers are making every effort to discredit the law, the public opinion of the nation is in no mood to return to the rule of the saloon. The saloon sinned away its day of grace and few friends remain to bemoan its passing.

Hiram Johnson has again won the Republican nomination for the senatorship from California. Thus the country will see him in politics for another six years, for their is little chance of beating him at the general election. Johnson has never been popular with the leaders of his party, but they have had to recognize him because he was strong with the people of his own state. Failing to consider this fact probably cost Hughes the presidential election in 1916. When he stumped California he ignored Johnson who was in disfavor as a result of going off with the bull moosers four years before, hence Hughes feared contact with him might hurt his own cause in the presidential race. On one occasion the two men stopped at the same hotel, but Hughes ignored the presence of the senator. A strange thing happened on election day. Johnson was returned to the senate with a quarter of a million majority behind him, while Hughes lost the state to Wilson and the presidency along with it. Hughes probably learned that it does not pay to be too particular about what company a man associates with when running for office.

An ovation was given Senator Culberson at the Democratic state convention at San Antonio. This will be the last he will attend as a senator and the ovation from his fellow Democrats must be considered as a parting tribute of respect for the old warrior who for more than thirty years has been a leader of the party in Texas. Culberson's career is now a matter of history and he is soon to join the number of has-beens, for in these rushing times no man lingers long in the memory of his fellows unless he is constantly pulling some spectacular stunt. However, Culberson retires with the respect of his constituents. The finger of suspicion has never been pointed at him during his long political career and if he lives to a ripe old age he can contemplate with satisfaction the record he made during his days in the political arena.

Although the census bureau's report on cotton gave the condition as only 57 and a decline of a million bales in the estimate over the previous one, the price of the staple dropped half a cent on the report. The question is how far would it have had to fall in order to cause an advance. It is very likely that when the damage by insects is fully known that there will be a drop of fully a half a million bales under the last estimate, or around 10,000,000 bales. Probably the most disturbing factor in the situation just at present is the falling off in exports to Europe. Those countries are pretty hard up and matters are rather unsettled, but they must have cotton if there is any way of getting it, so the situation is not altogether hopeless. A few years ago 10,000,000 bales would have been considered a very short crop and it would not have met the demand, but this year it will be ample for all purposes.

The appointment of former Senator Sutherland of Utah to the supreme bench recalls the time honored practice of taking care of the "lame duck." Holding office for any length of time usually disqualifies a man from making much headway in a business or professional way, so if he has been a useful member of his party he is generally taken care of in some appointive job. Sutherland was beaten by a Democrat several years ago and when Harding came into office the Utah "lame duck" was speedily taken care of and now comes the climax in the way of a lifetime job which no Democrat can take away from him.

Minority Rules in Missouri
(Kansas City Journal)
Twenty-three per cent of the citizens of Missouri—If Kansas City be typical of Missouri—are ruling the state!

That is the startling but inevitable indication of the August primary—the latest opportunity by which people have exercised their rule.

Here are the figures:

Census statistics for 1920 show 225,317 persons in Kansas City at least 21 years old—the voting age.

Total registration for the August primary was 136,174. Thus 89,143 or 40 per cent were not registered.

The total vote for the senatorial candidates of all parties was 52,618.

Thus 23 per cent of the total number of persons at least 21 years of age actually took part in the primary.

Of the total number of voting age, 113,956 are men. The registration of men was 77,065. Sixty-eight per cent qualified to vote.

The women, at least 21 years old, number 111,361. Of these 59,109 were registered. Fifty-three per cent qualified to exercise their new privilege.

It is true of course, that some of those of voting age were otherwise disqualified, but their number is so small that for purposes of comparison they need hardly be considered.

The bare facts and figures are astonishing.

They raise the question whether, after all, this is really representative government under which we live. Ours is a government which contemplates that every good citizen at least 21 years old shall vote. And 40 per cent, roughly, cast away the privilege and ignore duty.

How can a government be truly representative if nearly half of its citizens apparently desire no representation?

The appearance of things, however, deceives. Ask those qualified to vote and who did not vote if they are willing for the franchise to be taken from them. If you find one among them who answers in the affirmative, at the very least will be a curiosity in this country and time.

No, it is the old, old story. They counted on the other fellow to do the job for them.

And consider the women. After years of struggling for the ballot, only 53 per cent exercise the newly-won prerogative to register.

The evils of widespread failure to vote must be obvious to the casual thinker.

The slacker citizen has been the problem of good citizens of the community as far back as the memory of the oldest of us extends. And the problem persists.

What is the remedy?

Is it that all of us shall be required to vote? The Journal suggests the thought for your consideration and will welcome your views.

Coincidentally, registration day comes again September 21. If you are not properly registered now, that will be your opportunity to qualify for participation in the November senatorial state and county election.

Will you be a citizen? Or will you choose merely to live in this state and country, with the other fellows as your ruler?

The Remedy

(Wichita Daily Times)
Swift and certain punishment, by the gallows route, is the only way to breed a respect for the law that will prevent such crimes as the Herin massacre, and Chicago's murdered-per-day average, suggests the Chicago Tribune.

"Why should we wonder at the persistence of violence in labor disputes when our administration of law is slack throughout the country?" asks the Tribune. "In Chicago there is a killing a day—by average—and of these one out of three is a murder. But there are few hangings. Most killers evade justice either wholly or in part. A woman kills her husband through jealousy and a sloppy minded jury sets her free. An allegation of seduction generally constitutes a license to kill. Taking the law into her own hands, constituting herself judge, jury and executioner, is a safe practice for any good looking female. As for gunmen and camorists, they live according to their own code and the laws which run against the rest of us leave them untrammelled and unafraid."

"In the labor world this lawlessness is given the special sanction by radical propaganda which saturates a considerable element of the workers. Revolutionary radicalism is founded on the class war dogma and murder in minds so controlled is not murder but war. We have seen how hundreds of thousands of lives—some estimates are 1,500,000—were taken by the soviet government without trial and solely on the callous theory that in a class war of the proletariat the bourgeois class must be exterminated. Men who think like that are not going to bother over destroying a trainload of human beings to terrorize the rest."

"Now there are various ways of meeting this unpleasant fact in American life. We have faith enough in our institutions and in our social and political intelligence to believe that this poison will be absorbed without serious danger in due time. We believe labor conditions are improving and that we can solve the problems of industrial relations in spite of imported radicalism. But there is something for us to do at once and that is to compel respect for the law of the land by enforcing it. Violence should be punished with swift certainty. Men or women who murder should pay the penalty for murder. Our indifference to law enforcement, our perverted sentimentality and misapplied humanitarianism encourage the ignorant and the fanatical to destroy wherever their bigotry or passion dictates. There is no healthy, vigorous discipline in this country to restrain the perverse, the benighted, or the inflamed egotist from following his impulse to destroy, and the want of that discipline is a reproach to us and a peril.

"The men who conspired to kill in the Gary derailment should hang for murder, and throughout the nation responsible American citizenship should sternly resolve that violence shall be put down wherever and under whatever excuse it breaks forth. We, the people, make our laws, and if we respect ourselves and have regard for the future of our social order we shall see that those laws are feared where they are not honored. The prevalence of violence in labor disputes and in ordinary crime is our own fault. We can abolish it by enforcing the law."

NOTICE

I have just returned from Oklahoma City where I secured a position as district representative for the Real Silk Hosiery Mills of Indianapolis, Ind. THREE ARE SEIZED FOR GIRL'S DEATH

Kiefer Youths to Answer for Fatal Leap from Speeding Auto.

(By the Associated Press)
SAPULPA, Sept. 5.—Following the death of Delphia Evans, 16 year old Kiefer girl, who died from injuries received when she leaped from their car, Roy Todd, Ed Hunt, and E. F. Eastman, prominent Kiefer youths, are in jail here on charges of attempted criminal assault.

Cecilia Evans, 19, the dead girl's sister, is at the home of her uncle, near Kiefer, suffering from bruises received when she jumped from the car. A third girl, Mary Campbell, who leaped from the car, escaped uninjured.

It is stated here that the escapade occurred Saturday night, when the Evans sisters, who have been working in Tulsa with Miss Campbell, returned to Kiefer to visit their uncle. They intended to stay in Kiefer and to go to school. On arriving at Kiefer the youths offered to take them out the road to their uncle's farm in an automobile.

En route, it is said, the young men forced their attentions on the girls and when they protested and wished to be let out of the car, the driver speeded up and passed the uncle's farm. Then the girls jumped. Delphia was the most seriously injured and was rushed to a hospital where she died yesterday.

I will open my kindergarten in the Willard School building Monday Sept. 11. Children four and five years old are solicited. Four year old children will be given regular kindergarten work. Children five years old will be given in addition reading, writing and number work, all taught by stories and games. If you have children of these ages, phone 627.

HURT ALL OVER

Texas Lady Couldn't Sit, Stand or Lie With Any Comfort. Says
"Cardui Did World of Good."Bartlett, Texas.—Mrs. Nannie Messer, of Route 3, this place, states:
"About three years ago I was in a very critical condition. I had been suffering for some time. To tell how I hurt would be impossible."I just hurt all over. I couldn't sit, stand or lay with any comfort, my back, sides and head all gave me a great deal of trouble."I was especially bothered with a light swimming in my head. My people were very uneasy about me and sent me to my relatives to see if a change would do me any good."I stopped at a sister-in-law's and she being a great believer in Cardui, asked me why I didn't use it. I decided to try it."I had only taken a few doses when I felt it would do me good. This gave hopes and I used it right along and it did me just a world of good, since which time I have never ceased to praise Cardui."Cardui is for simple female complaints and womanly pains and has been found to benefit in thousands of such cases when not due to malformation or that do not require surgical treatment. Try it. NC-136a

ment on February 28th, 1917:
Doan's Kidney Pills have been a great benefit to me and have my heartiest endorsement. My kidneys acted irregularly; my head ached and at times I was awfully dizzy. Doan's Kidney Pills have been used in my family with such good results that I tried them. I also received fine relief and it was but a short time before I was absolutely all right again."On May 2, 1921, Mrs. Smith said:

S. S. S. Fills Out Hollow Cheeks, Thin Limbs!

Men and women, whether you will ever build yourself up to your normal, just-right weight depends on the number of blood-cells in your blood. That's all there is to it. It's a scientific fact. If your blood-cell factory isn't working right, you will be run-down, thin, your blood will be in disorder, and perhaps your face will be broken out with pimples, blackheads and eruptions. S. S. S. keeps your blood-cell factory working full time. It helps build new blood-cells. That's why S. S. S. builds up thin, run-down people, it puts firm flesh on your bones, it rounds out your face, arms neck, limbs, the whole body. It takes the "pink" in your cheeks. It takes the hollowness from the eyes, and it fools Father Time by smoothing out wrinkles in men and women by "plumping" them up. S. S. S. is a remarkable blood-purifier. While you are getting plump, your skin eruptions, pimples, blackheads, acne, rheumatism, rash, blotches are being removed. The medicinal ingredients of S. S. S. are guaranteed purely vegetable. S. S. S. is sold at all drug stores, in two sizes. The larger size is the more economical.

YOST IS FORCED TO BUILD A NEW MICHIGAN LINE

(By the Associated Press)
ANN ARBOR, MICH. Sept. 5.—Facing the problem of developing practically a new line, and with one of the hardest schedules of his career ahead of him, Coach Yost of the University of Michigan football team will begin active training of his charges September 15, the date that 47 men have been invited to return for the practice season.
Th Wolverines this year will have but three weeks to prepare for their first game. This comes Oct. 7, when Case, for many years called upon to provide the first opposition to the Maize and Blue, takes the field at Ann Arbor.
The week following the Case game, the Yostmen will meet Vanderbilt University at Nashville for the first time in years.
Michigan's real test of strength will come October 21 when Ohio State will be called upon to meet the Wolverine attack, at Columbus. The game will be the first in Ohio's new $1,400,000 stadium, and, according to critics here, will rank as one of the most important clashes in the west this year.
Michigan's completed schedule follows:
Oct. 7—Case at Ann Arbor.
Oct. 14—Vanderbilt University at Nashville.
Oct. 21—Ohio State at Columbus.
Oct. 28—Illinois at Ann Arbor.
Nov. 18—Wisconsin at Ann Arbor.
Nov. 25—Minnesota at Minneapolis.

786,000 BALES IS COTTON FORECAST

Boll Weevil and Hot Winds Cut State's Crop to 53 Percent Normal.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla.—An Oklahoma cotton crop of 786,000 bales is forecast in the report of the bureau of agricultural economics of the U. S. department of agriculture and the state board of agriculture, co-operating, completed Aug. 25, providing that "average conditions prevail until the close of the season."
The report estimated the condition of the cotton crop in this state at 53 per cent of normal on Aug. 25. It states that instead of the average decline of eleven points for the period since the last report, the decline has been twenty-two points during the month.
Reasons for the decline in condition of the crop were boll weevil, drought, hot winds, boll worm and leaf worm, the report states, with a large part of the deterioration being due to the drouth and hot winds.
"The dry August last year contributed to lowering the condition from 68 per cent on July 25 to 48 per cent on Aug. 25, but the bulk of the damage was caused by weevil and worms; this year the drouth caused most of the damage," the report said.
"The western half of the state particularly has felt the full effect of the drouth," the report continues. "That district last year had a condition of 77 per cent on Aug. 25, and averaged 187 pounds of lint; this year, due to the severe drouth, the condition is but 49 per cent. Likewise, the southwest had 60 percent condition a year ago, averaging 152 pounds of lint; this year the condition is 41 per cent."
"These two districts constitute a fourth of the acreage planted this year and are practically unaffected by the weevil; thirty-five per cent of the 1921 crop was raised there. The drouth has also materially lowered the condition in most of the remainder of the cotton belt; in many instances the damage is greater than that wrought by the weevil, particularly on the "tight" lands.
"The growing condition of cotton on the bottom lands in the eastern half of the state is good in the main, but it has suffered from weevil infestation to the extent that there is little middle or op crop. Boll worms and leaf worms have also begun their activities in the eastern counties. It is extremely doubtful whether rains now would be of benefit to quality or length of staple, or whether they would help to make much of a bolly crop. The first killing frost may be expected within sixty days and September blooms cannot be counted on with any degree of certainty. There are sections in the west that have not had any rain in more than two months, which condition coupled with extreme temperatures and hot winds caused bolls to dry on the stalks or open prematurely.

A Fallen Idol

By ELLA SAUNDERS
Copyright, 1922, Western Newspaper Union
"You do love Mumsie, don't you Johnny?" asked his mother, bending down to kiss him.
"Very much, Mumsie, but I love Miss Rogers a teeny little bit more, 'cos she's so nice to me."
Mrs. Adair watched the little figure depart upon its way to school with an old pang at her heart. She had had two children, but one had been taken from her, and she had clung to her little boy with all the devotion of the mother of one.
Miss Rogers, capable, cool, efficient, yet seemed a poor substitute for herself in Johnny's affections.
Had she not slaved for him, given up every minute of her life to him? She had watched the little figure asleep with passionate love. And now he loved Miss Rogers a little bit more.
For a moment she almost hated the school-teacher. She would have liked to have torn her hair, scratched her face, committed any excess of outraged mother-love. Then common sense came to her aid. After all it was probably a childish fancy.
"Mumsie, dear, what shall I give Miss Rogers for her birthday tomorrow?"
"How do you know it's tomorrow?"
"Cos she told me. She'll be twenty-four." Mrs. Adair smiled. So even efficient Miss Rogers was not above womanly deceptions! "And I can't think whether to give her a pin-box or some flowers. And I've got forty cents."
"What did you give Mumsie last birthday?"
"But I forgot it was your birthday," protested Johnny. "You should have minded me."
Mrs. Adair hardened her heart. She choked down her distress. "I'm afraid that's a matter that you'll have to decide for yourself, Johnny," she answered.
Johnny pondered over the problem all the way to school next morning. When he entered the classroom his mind was still not made up. He glanced up at Miss Rogers, presiding over the little boys and girls. How beautiful she was, with that smooth curl on her forehead! He loved her. He had never dared to tell her so. He wondered if she could guess how much he loved her.
"Johnny, sit up!"
Johnny sat up in consternation. Miss Rogers had never spoken to him quite so crossly as that before. Tears came into his eyes. How sorry she would feel when he gave her her present.
But what should it be? Should he give her the pin-box the next morning, or should he give her the bunch of flowers? He could not possibly make up his mind. Which would Miss Rogers prefer? Suppose he gave her flowers, and she would rather have had the pin-box!
"Johnny, come here. What do you mean by lolling in the class like that for?"
Johnny stood in the middle of the room, painfully conscious of the scornful glances of the other children. He began to cry. His Miss Rogers—to treat him so! He fought down the tears, but his lips trembled.
Miss Rogers was really upset that day. She had had a quarrel with her sweetheart. But, of course, Johnny could not have been expected to know that.
"Johnny, you've been idling and dreaming all through the lesson. Now repeat to me what I've taught you."
It was true. Johnny could not repeat a single word. How should he, when he had not heard one? His thoughts had been far away—dreaming about the flowers and the pin-box.
"You really are a very idle, bad boy. Now go to your seat and try to pay attention to what I tell you."
Johnny went back. He felt the tears running down his face. He could no longer contain himself.
"Cry-baby!" whispered the little girl next to him. He slapped her face.
"Johnny!" Amazed, Miss Rogers bore down on him. "Leave the room at once. If you don't behave yourself I shall send you to the principal."
He stood miserably outside till the class was over. A terrible scolding succeeded it. It was a wretched little figure that went drearily away in the wake of the other boys and girls.
It brightened as it drew nearer home. Mrs. Adair, waiting on the porch, stretched out her arms to the little figure.
"Why, what have you got in that parcel, darling?" she asked.
"A pin-box. And it's for you, Mumsie, 'stead of Miss Rogers, 'cos I love you ever so much—ever so much better than her."

Multiplication is Vexation.
The little girl at the elementary school had been promoted to multiplication and for her home work was set the task of finding out how many legs 400 normal horses possess. A bit puzzled as to how to work it out, in the evening as she sat with her exercise book in front of her, she called in the services of her grandmother.
"Let's see," said grandma, adjusting her spectacles. "One horse'll have four legs, two eight, three twelve, four sixteen, five twenty—" and then she broke off. "How many horses did you say?" she asked.
"Four hundred, granny," replied the little girl.
"E-e, child," said the old lady, shutting up the book. "There isn't one living could do that sum!"—Edinburgh Scotsman.

BIBLE THOUGHT OF TODAY

BEGIN THE DAY RIGHT:—Cause me to hear thy loving kindness in the morning; for in thee do I trust; cause me to know wherein I should walk; for I lift up my soul unto thee. —Psalm 143:8.

THE DEMOCRATIC SITUATION

The Democratic party of Oklahoma is face to face with a proposition without precedent. The nominee for governor made his race on a platform adopted by a convention in which there was little sympathy for recognized principles followed by the party heretofore. Walton won because of the division of the conservative vote between Owen and Wilson. Their combined vote is considerably in excess of his, indicating that the majority of the voters of the party is not in sympathy with the nominee. However, his nomination is an accomplished fact and now comes a problem of readjustment.

A great deal depends on the action of the precinct and county conventions which will choose delegates to the state convention where the platform will be written upon which the fight will be waged for the ticket at the November election. If Walton's friends control these of course the platform will be written according to their views, but if his opponents control these conventions and write a platform in which the planks of the Shawnee platform are ignored how will matters stand? It will be up to Walton to choose whether he will stand on the platform of the regular convention or stay with the Shawnee demands. On his decision will depend the course of the campaign and until there is something definite along this line the Democratic party is considerably at sea. The whole question is whether Walton will attempt to reconcile the conservative and radical elements of the party and his success in this endeavor. If the party is to win in November it must present a united front. Meantime members of the party should not be hasty about forming their judgments.

Caustic criticism has had no effort on the farm bloc in congress. The senators and representatives forming this group continue to stick together and make their influence felt. What worries the old time leaders is that these men put the interests of their constituents above the orders of the party bosses and caucuses and can't be depended on to fall into line when the whip cracks. This is the first time in the history of congress that such a bloc existed openly. Of course special interests have controlled groups but this was a secret matter and the members composing such groups very careful to cover their tracks.

It is reported that a vote on the tariff bill will likely be taken by the senate on August 17. However, that will not end the matter, for it will probably take the conference committee three or four weeks to iron out the differences in the measure and send it back to the two houses. After they adopt the final revision as presented by the committee it will go to Harding for his signature. The people will pass judgment on it in November.

The primary demonstrated the fact that Ada has outgrown four voting boxes. It is a physical impossibility for any set of election officials to handle the heavy vote now cast here with any sort of dispatch. For an election or two after statehood there were two boxes in Ada, then one was placed in each of the four wards. The natural growth of the city and the giving of the franchise to the women has run the voting population up to big figures.

The railroad labor board was created to settle differences between the companies and the employees. However, neither side has been any too ready to abide by its decisions, the idea being apparently to accept as much as they wanted and reject the rest. That will never get very far. Both sides must obey if the board is to be of any assistance in keeping peace.

Now that the election is over the citizens of Pontotoc county should begin to think about the township and county fairs. With the favorable season of this year the best line of exhibits ever seen here can be displayed and the county given some valuable advertising. We hope to see much interest displayed in this matter and the best fairs on record pulled off.

Our fates may be pre-determined but that is no reason why a fellow should refuse to put forth his best efforts. Perhaps it was not fate but his own lack of hustling that holds him down. At all events a tussle with grim adversity is better than acknowledging defeat at the outset.

Apparently Senator Reed of Missouri has won the nomination for another term. This is probably due to the fact that people soon forget the record of a politician and just word for things when a campaign is under way. Two years ago Reed would have come off badly worsted.

Mrs. Mabel Bassett has apparently won the Democratic nomination for commissioner of charities and corrections. Mrs. Bassett is a lady of unusual ability and when defeated, W. D. Matthews defeated her for this office by the third time he proved the lucky number in her case.

The Only Girl.

(McAlester News-Capital)
When you go back to the old home town, after being away many years, one of the most startling discoveries is the change wrought by time in fellows you once knew as town drunkards, loafers, or bullies.

A fellow who in his early twenties was a no-good—"never be worth his salt"—steps up briskly and wrings your hand. You learn that he is in business for himself now and "doin' fine."

He is restless. You guess that he is anxious to confess. Then the great and important secret comes out. He met "the only girl" and married her. Proudly he opens the back of his watch, shows you her picture—also the things that are running around the house besides the fence. She put him to work.

A little farther down the street you meet the fellow you once knew as the town bully.

There is a sad, reminiscent vacancy in his eyes, such as Napoleon must have had at St. Helena. The system has caught him. He is industrious, obviously, but in such a timid way that you wonder if he went in for preaching.

Then his great secret comes out. He, also, met "the only girl" and married her. He doesn't tell you, but you surmise that she has him well tamed.

Another familiar face looms up. You cannot place him until you realize that it is because his red nose, bleary eyes and finger tremble has disappeared.

The town drunkard!
You wring his hand, comment on how well he is looking. Then you ask him what he's doing to get "the stuff" these days.

"Oh," he boasts, puffing up like a fresh blister, "I never touch the old hardware any more. Haven't had a drink for so long I suppose three fingers of it would make me sick. I quit when I met the only girl. We're married now. I voted dry."

The good influence of good women is about the finest thing in life. Poverty is a sad handicap. So is ill health. So are thousands of other forms of misfortune.

But, when all is said and done, the worst kind of bad luck that can happen to man is not meeting "the only girl"—or, in meeting her and not getting her.

Our Complicated Civilization

(Tulsa World)
The denizens of our chief city are getting an object lesson in the beauties of the simple life, and the uncertainties of what science and invention have brought us to in the way of substitutes for nature.

The New York Times ever voices the fear that the metropolis is approaching the fate of the "one-hoss shay." Water mains burst; floods tie up the subway; short circuits in power houses or in motor boxes of the trains tie it up more seriously; the cables of Brooklyn bridge shift and slide. It begins to seem as if New York City will have to be sent back to the factory for repairs; mere garage service is hardly able to keep it going.

Yet the average citizen remains unworried. He still crosses the bridge and rides in the subway, and expects the water to flow when he turns on the tap. He goes away for vacation to a rustic spot where water has to be carried from the spring, and there are no subways and suspension bridges and power houses to be broken down.

Admirers of the simple life tell him that his wants are too many; that he would be happier without these vast and complex machines that determine his life, that seem sometimes to be getting beyond his comprehension and threatening to bring him to a disaster which he can neither foresee nor understand. But the simplifiers make few converts. We like our mechanical civilization; we should rather run the risks of undefined metropolitan disaster than die of old age among the katydids. We won't know where we are going, but we insist on being on our way.

Klan Not Voting as a Body

(Hugo News)
The Ku Klux Klan is not in politics. This announcement is made by the Oklahoma Herald. The Herald is the official organ of the Klan in this state. In the last issue of this paper it stated that every Klansman will vote as his own conscience dictates and that no effort has been made to concentrate the vote of Klansmen as a body on any one candidate. This announcement, which can be taken as official, will set at rest many stories and much anxiety on the part of candidates and politicians some of whom had hoped to control the Klan vote and others feared that was just what the Klan would do. It is understood that the question of endorsement of candidates was discussed in official circles of the Klan and that the decision was against such action.

Farmers' Column

By Byron Norrell

From reports given by farmers and others who have occasion to use the recklessness of some auto drivers is at times past endurance. One farmer was run into by two men in a car recently. A leg of one of his mules was broken but the drivers never stopped, hence there was no chance for redress. If the rights of teamsters are to be disregarded by such road hogs a shotgun will become a necessary part of the equipment and it will be in order to post a reward for the first driver who brings down one of them. They can understand that sort of argument even if they don't care a whoop about the lives of others. Just because an autoist is outside the city limits and in no danger of being run in for violation of the law is no reason why he should forget that others have rights. Then, too, chickens and turkeys are often wantonly run over and the drivers will just step on the gas instead of stopping to pay for the damage he caused by his recklessness. When I lived on the farm two years ago we lost a fair sized per centage of our turkeys in this manner and I have never felt very kindly towards reckless drivers since.

Last spring I mentioned an experiment with a new variety of cotton by Sloan Palmer, R. P. Price, Prof. McCormick of the college and E. H. Simpson. The new variety has not been given a permanent name but for the time being is called Oklahoma Triumph 44. It is the result of careful selection beginning with a stalk of Mebane Triumph in 1912 at the A. & M. college. Early maturity and length of staple were two qualities sought and there is no doubt about the success of the efforts of the experimenters in securing early maturity.

In company with Prof. Glen Briggs of the college, one of the men who bred the new variety, I visited the various patches in Pontotoc county a day or two ago. Prof. McCormick is endeavoring to find by actual test what variety or varieties of cotton do best in Pontotoc county. He has seven or eight varieties in a patch on a corner of the college campus. He planted it in strips of three rows each and has two strips of three each of the various kinds. The Oklahoma Triumph is easily distinguished partly by the number of open bolls and by the fact that it has more bolls than any other variety there.

Sloan Palmer of Oakman has about two acres planted alongside a patch of Acala. Both were planted the same day but a man who never saw a stalk of cotton before can easily tell when he gets out of the Acala and into the Triumph. It has a great many more bolls, both green and open, and could be picked the first time now, but the Acala will not be ready for ten days or two weeks. Dry weather has done more damage than the weevils but the cotton looks good for half a bale to the acre.

E. H. Simpson who lives on my farm between Stonevale and Lula has five acres. By the side of it is about the same size patch of Webb. One can tell to the row where one stops and the other begins. Mr. Simpson held the weevils down very well but the dry weather of the past month has cut the yield and quality of the staple. It looks good for half a bale, unless there are too many damaged bolls. The Webb patch was planted about the middle of May and the Triumph the last days of that month, some ten days later, but much more of it is open than in the Webb patch, bearing out the claim for early maturity. It is also better fruited than the Webb.

R. P. Price has five acres near Lawrence. I am of the opinion that it will yield somewhat more than either of the other two places although the dry weather and hot winds have hurt it badly.

Prof. Briggs states that the college distributed what seed it had to farmers in various parts of the state and that a tour of inspection made by him has borne out favorable reports he has received from the growers. Most growers will save the seed for next year as there promises to be a brisk demand for it.

When Hardy Dial told of the parasite that destroyed the boll weevil some laughed about it, but now it is a settled fact that such an enemy is really at work. I have found them in a number of fields here and although they are not as numerous as one might wish, it is to be hoped that they will increase fast enough to hold down the last crop of grubs and not leave so many weevils to go through the coming winter. At all events, it may be that in another year they will be here in full force and mix it with the pests. One entomologist figures that the fly which lays the eggs that destroys the weevil grub followed the weevil from Mexico and is just now beginning to arrive here.

Oklahoma Crop Notes.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Sept. 2, 1922.—Weather conditions prevailing in the state during the past week have not changed materially, except in the eastern portion where light to heavy rains have been received. The drought still continues in the central and western half of the state and causing much destruction to all crops. Late corn in the eastern part was deteriorating rapidly until the advent of recent rains. The drought in the western and southwestern part of the state is playing a havoc with the corn crop as is the boll weevil with the crop in the south-central portion. Pastures have failed fast and in many instances are completely dried up. Stock water is getting extremely low, especially so in the most serious drought stricken sections.

It was indeed interesting to see farmers in the extreme southern counties rushing to get their first bale of cotton to market first. In practically all localities where a bale of this year's crop has been marketed, a bonus was given the first three farmers bringing in the staple. The first bales of cotton brought to market at the following places and their dates are: Hobart, August 22nd, Ardmore, August 23rd, Pauls Valley, August 22nd, Cordell, August 23rd, Lindsay, August 22nd, Hollis, August 23rd.

The U. S. Bureau of Agricultural Economics and the State Board of Agriculture, co-operating, report the condition of cotton on August 25th as 53 per cent of normal which forecasts 786,000 bales, providing that average variations prevail until the close of the season. The crop has deteriorated greatly since the last report from the effects of weevil, drought, hot winds, boll worm and leafworm. Instead of the average decline of 11 points, the condition has dropped 22 points during the month. The dry August last year contributed to lowering the condition from 68 per cent on July 25th to 48 per cent on August 25th, but the bulk of the damage was caused by the weevil and worm; this year the drought caused most of the damage.

The western half of the state particularly has felt the full effect of the drought. The west district last year had a condition of 77 per cent on August 25th and averaged 187 pounds of lint; this year, due to the severe drought, the condition is but 49 per cent. Likewise the south west had a condition of 60 per cent on August 25th last year, averaging 152 pounds of lint; this year the condition is 41 per cent. These two districts constitute a fourth of the acreage planted this year and are practically unaffected by weevil.

The growing condition of cotton on the bottom lands in the eastern half is good in the main, but it has suffered from weevil infestation to the extent that there is little middle or top crop. Boll worms and leaf worms have also begun their activities in the eastern counties. It is extremely doubtful whether rains now would be of benefit to quality or length of staple or whether they would help to make much of a bolly crop. The first killing frost may be expected within sixty days and September blooms cannot be counted upon with any degree of certainty.

J. A. WHITEHURST, President State Board of Agriculture.

FRANCE IS LIFE FRIEND OF U. S. CHAMBRAN SAYS

(By the Associated Press) WEST POINT, N. Y. Sept. 6.—Count de Chambran, minister plenipotentiary and charge d'affaires of France, who is a great grandson of the Marquis Lafayette, voiced his nation's "true love of America" in an address here today at the celebration of Lafayette's birthday conducted by the Sons of the Revolution.

Count de Chambran pointed out that the affinities of the two nations were not based solely upon the ordinary consideration and forms, but were of "higher order and conception, it is enthroned in the hearts of our people."

"It seems as though at the moment of liberty's needs," he said, "that millions of human voices would echo on either side of the Atlantic ocean. If your freedom is threatened, count upon us."

Gov. McCray Will Not Trust Prize Fights in Indiana Any More

(By the Associated Press) INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Sept. 6.—Governor McCray, after reading a newspaper account of the Powell Moore-Joe Lynch match at Michigan City on Labor Day, announced that it seemed to him that another prize fight had been held in the Floyd-Fitzsimmons arena.

The governor said former matches held in the arena had seemed to him and many other persons to be ordinary prize fights which are prohibited by the Indiana law. The governor recalled that he had permitted the program which the promoters had assured him would be made up of boxing contests.

"I trusted them once more," said the governor, "and now I guess that the way to handle that situation is to stop it right. I don't believe I could trust them again."

CHICAGO HOPING TO ARREST TRIO FOR K. C. MURDER

CHICAGO, Sept. 6. — Detective squads early today were on guard on roads leading into Chicago in the hope of capturing three armed bank robbers wanted at Kansas City for killing two policemen and a deputy United States marshal in two pistol fights there recently.

The men were traced as far as East St. Louis yesterday and were believed to be headed for Chicago in an automobile. They are said to be members of a band of five who killed a deputy United States marshal in an attempted bank holdup August 24. Two of the bandits were captured September 2, following a fight in which the two policemen were shot to death.
